

Lane Farm Foods Ltd

Based in Brundish near Woodbridge in Suffolk, Lane Farm Country Foods are a Freedom Foods Pork and Salami producer. Having identified that to grow the business they would need to expand their existing premises, Lane Farm Foods put together a grant application to the Greater Cambridge Greater Peterborough Enterprise Partnership (LEP) for funding from the Eastern Agri-Tech Growth Initiative.

Vision

To upgrade existing premises in order to boost production and efficiency, thus growing the business and increasing profitability.

Results

Since Lane Farm Foods' Agri-Tech project was approved the team have moved into their larger premises, taken on more staff and expanded their production.

With the funding, Lane Farm Foods estimate that they will be able to create six new, full time jobs and safeguard nine. The positive publicity generated from the scheme has helped to increase Lane Farm Foods' sales and turnover.

Ian Whitehead from Lane Farm Country Foods, said: "We were thrilled to have been awarded this grant under the Agri-Tech programme. The money will kick start the next stage of our expansion plans creating new jobs as well as securing existing ones. We have always worked hard on the quality of our products and this grant will enable us to invest in new technology and infrastructure to help us maintain this together with the development of new lines."
